

JOHN F. WILEY.

[To accompany bill H. R. No. 461.]

MAY 26, 1842.

Mr. AYCRIGG, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, submitted the following

REPORT:

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom was referred the petition of John F. Wiley, report :

That the petitioner was wounded in the thumb of the right hand, and that, in consequence of frequent suppuration, the use of the hand has been lost. The wound was received in the service of the United States, at Fort Meigs, on the 8th of May, 1813. The certificate of Sterling Ford proves one-half disability. The signature and commission of the justices of the peace before whom the affidavits were taken are certified by the Hon. John W. Jones and William S. Archer, Senator.

The committee report a bill, granting half pay from May 1, 1842.

JOHN F. WILEY.

[To accompany bill H. R. No. 401.]

MAY 26, 1842.

Mr. President, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, submitted the following

REPORT

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom was referred the petition of John F. Wiley, report:

That the petitioner was wounded in the thumb of the right hand, and in consequence of frequent suppuration, the use of the hand has been lost. The wound was received in the service of the United States at the battle of the Marston on the 8th of May, 1813. The certificate of Stephen Ford, surgeon-major, and commission of the pensioners before whom the affidavits were taken are certified by the Hon. John W. Jones and William S. Archer, Senators. The committee report a bill, granting half pay from May 1, 1812.